

I see from this e-mail I received that New Jersey has the strictest "DO NOT CALL" law in the USA. May be the FCC should look at it and change the way they do things. If people do not want telemarketers to call, which is allways at dinner time when famlies want to enjoy one anothers company, they have that right. I applaude Gov Codey for his strong stand on this issue. I agree that everyone has their right to speak their piece and sell their products how ever they can but they must also respect the rights of the general public who do not wish to be called.

thank you
